

From: Dave Feldman <dave@bethesdagreen.org>
Subject: Bethesda Green Business Incubator Expansion
Date: February 10, 2011 10:09:38 AM EST
To: john.jabara@savenia.org
Reply-To: dave@bethesdagreen.org

Having trouble viewing this email? Click here

Meet the Entrepreneurs of Bethesda Green

Meet the entrepreneurs of the Bethesda Green Business Incubator who are fueling the growth of the green economy throughout Montgomery County, Maryland. See the video produced by Mark Leisher that debuted at the February 8, 2011 Open House celebrating the expansion of the incubator space courtesy of Capital One Bank.

Bethesda Green is growing and our continued success would not be possible without key partnerships. It's your turn to be a part of this exciting movement by supporting our ongoing programs and services in the Business Incubator and Community Outreach.

Corporate sponsorships, in-kind donations and individual contributions are all leveraged to build a healthy economy and promote sustainable living practices right here in our own community. Make your donation today or contact info@bethesdagreen.org for more information on how you can be part of Bethesda Green and our positive impact in the community.

John Jabara, founder of Savenia Labs, at the Bethesda Green Business Incubator Open House, Feb. 8, 2011

University of Maryland partnership

Bethesda Green also announced at the Incubator Open House a new partnership with the University of Maryland to share expertise in promoting the development of sustainable communities. See the press releases below for more details.

Bethesda Green press release

University of Maryland press release

Also of Note

Menare Foundation, a Bethesda Green Incubator company, is hosting a benefit concert this Sunday at the Montgomery College Takoma Park Culture Arts Center. Tickets may be purchased online. The box office is open for inquiries between 11 am and 2 pm