SANDY SPRING BUILDERS' SAVVY HOMES NOW SAVENIA RATED

FIRST HOME BUILDER TO INCORPORATE NEW SAVENIA HOME RATINGS

(Bethesda, MD Issued Dec 4, 2013) - Sandy Spring Builders, one of the leading high-end custom home builders and remodelers in the DC metro area has joined forces with Savenia Labs new Savenia Home Ratings to rate their Savvy line of homes. Savenia has awarded the Savvy 'SL' home appliance, water heater and lighting package plan with a Gold Rating, signifying they are amongst the most energy efficient in the country.

"With the launch of Savenia Home Ratings, we bring our independent energy and environmental impact ratings to home sellers, builders and buyers, to complement our programs in Retail and Enterprise," said John Jabara, Founder of Savenia Labs. "We are excited to be working with Sandy Spring Builders, one of the most forward thinking home builders in the nation for the launch of this new service."

"We designed Savvy with the high quality standards that our customers have come to expect, while ensuring low operating costs and a reduced environmental footprint," said Phil Leibovitz, CEO Sandy Spring Builders. "We are delighted to see Savenia quantify the value of efficiency features we build into our new Savvy homes."

Recognized for its revolutionary Energy Rating Labels in retail stores, Savenia has truly changed the way people shop for appliances and electrical products. Now, with Savenia Home, sellers, builders and buyers can obtain home energy and environmental impact ratings to understand lifetime costs and impacts. Savenia puts a monetary value on home efficiency investments, which can be used to communicate cost savings, increased value and environmentally friendly features to home buyers.
